Judge, Prosecuting Attorney and Sheriff Slain by

MOUNTAIN DESPERADOES

In Virginia Temple of Justice—Several Prisoners in Custody—Possess Searching for Others.

Just as Judge Thornton Massie on Thursday of last week had pronounced a sentence of one year in the penitentiary at hard labor on Floyd Allen for assisting a prisoner to escape from an officer of the law, a band of mountaineer desperadoes from the Blue Ridge fastnesses swooped down upon the quiet little Court House at Hillsville, the county seat of Carroll County, Virginia, and tethering their horses, entered with their Winchester rifles and revolvers. On signal being given fire was opened and when order was again restored by the retreat of the Allen clan to the mountains the Judge, the Prosecuting Attorney and the Sheriff lay dead, others being wounded. The community was paralyzed by the occurrence, and the desperadoes escaped into the mountain ravines many miles before searching parties took up the trail.

Governor Mann offered a reward of $3,000, which was afterward increased to $4,000, for the capture, dead or alive, of the offenders.

Floyd Allen had struck a Deputy Sheriff in charge of a prisoner over the head with the butt of a rifle, thus making possible the escape of the prisoner. In the face of dire warnings Sheriff Webb had gone into the mountains, arrested Allen and brought him to Hillsville. A mountaineer jury from the inland section had convicted him, it not being possible to secure a panel in Carroll County to sit in the trial of one of the Allen clan.

The little brick structure was crowded to hear the sentence. There were twenty in the troop who appeared without at this juncture, their mountain ponies bearing evidence of a hard trip over mountain roads, headed by Sidney and Jack Allen, brothers of the convict. The mountaineers crowded into the structure and stood in front of the rail and about the door. The usual formalities having been disposed of, the sentence was pronounced when began the fusillade, the death volleys. Judge Massie sank upon the bench, Prosecutor Foster fell to the floor; Sheriff Webb sprang forward for the prisoner when he was riddled with bullets and fell. The desperadoes backed from the building, dragging

Mrs. Emanuel Rose

The Death Angel has again visited the quiet village of Centerville and removed one of our most useful women.

Mrs. Laura, wife of Emanuel Rose, died early Tuesday morning, aged 55 years, five months and 15 days.

On the day preceding her death Mrs. Rose was in a more lively mood than general and visited 10 or 12 of her neighbors. She was in her usual health on retiring. At 2 o'clock her husband noticed that she was breathing heavily. He had trouble in arousing her. She spoke a few words, then became unconscious and remained in that condition until 4 o'clock when she passed away.

Mrs. Rose was married on November 27, 1878, to Emanuel Rose and to this union three children were born, all of whom, with her husband, survive. Zella, wife of H. H. Deane of Hyndman; Arvilla, wife of Cromwell Boor, and Keese in the Valley. She was a daughter of Henry and Mary Ann Wertz, deceased, and is survived by three brothers, Charles and Howard Wertz, of Shelby, O., and Dr. Anna A. Wertz of Hagerstown, Md.

The funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon in the Centerville M. E. Church, conducted by Rev. Day, assisted by Rev. Chitt; interment was made in Bethel Cemetery. The I. O. O. F. turned out to the funeral in a body to show their appreciation of the worth of Mr. and Mrs. Rose in the community in which they lived all their lives.

Horse Sale

Sixty horses will be offered at Stiver's sale here tomorrow, instead of 50 as was previously announced. Several private family rigs, including horse, buggy and harness, will be sold. The sale will begin at 10 o'clock, rain or shine.

La Follette Wins in North Dakota

In the first Presidential preferential primary election in North Dakota on Tuesday, Senator La Follette of Wisconsin is thought to have had a plurality of 13,000 over Theodore Roosevelt as the preference of the Republicans of that state for the Presidential nomination.

BEDFORD SPRINGS LICENSE

Correspondent Discusses Reasons for Refusal Given by Judge.

In refusing a license to Howard M. Wing, Assistant Manager of the Bedford Springs Company, Judge Woods says, "In the application of Howard Wing we notice that one of the sureties, Frederick A. Metzger, does not sign the petition," assigning this as a defect in the application. There is no requirement in the law that a surety shall sign the petition. On the contrary the law provides that any resident of the county may be a surety on a license bond, and also that a surety company of Pennsylvania, or any other state, authorized to do business in Pennsylvania, may be such surety. Of course no such company could sign the petition; and as the Brooks law explicitly says only "reputable qualified electors of the ward, borough or township in which such liquors are to be sold" can sign the petition, why does the Judge think Mr. Metzger, a resident of Bedford Borough, should or could legally sign a petition for a license in Bedford Township? Where did he find the legal requirement that a surety or bondsman must also sign the petition? It does not exist anywhere in the law. And is that the reason he refused the license? He further says, "The petition in this case is also defective in that he sets forth in his petition that he individually is the petitioner and signs the bond individually, but his petition is signed 'Howard M. Wing, Asst. Manager Bedford Springs Co., Ltd., petitioner,' a different party entirely, and we therefore hold this petition is defective," etc. This statement of fact is not correct. On the contrary the 7th paragraph of the petition says, "That your petitioner is the only person in any manner pecuniarily interested in the business so asked to be licensed, and that no other person shall be in any manner pecuniarily interested therein during the continuance of said license, except the said company for which he is agent." The usual printed form was used and the words in italics inserted for the very purpose of showing he did not apply individually. And he signed the petition, "Howard M. Wing, Asst. Manager Bedford Springs Co., Ltd., petitioner." In accordance with the statement in the body of the paper, and of the truth. The alleged discrepancy did not exist. And does any person suppose the license was refused for these unfounded reasons? He had himself granted the license eight times on similar petitions. Just such petitions had been approved by the courts and licenses granted thereon for many years, and no remonstrant this year, or in all that time, made objection on such grounds. Last year when all other licenses were refused, one was granted this applicant on a petition and bond precisely similar in form. In refusing this license it was not necessary for him to assign any reasons at all for so doing; any more than in the other cases, but when he did so he should have given valid reasons, which were sustained by the law and the facts. The reasons given are in accordance with neither the law nor the facts.

Harmony In Sight

Chairmen of State Democratic "Wings" Approaching Agreement That Will Result in Union—Communication from George W. Guthrie, "Reorganizers" Leader, and Answer of Walter E. Ritter, Head of "Old Guard."

MR. GUTHRIE'S LETTER

Outlines Plan for Union of All Democratic Forces.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 14, 1912.
At the meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee, at which ten out of the twelve members of the committee were present, at the State Headquarters of the party in Harrisburg, on Tuesday, March 12, 1912, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That in order to prevent the shadow of an excuse for holding a 'rump' convention, we offer Mr. Ritter and his committee to unite in a joint call for one convention, the roll to be made up under joint supervision, placing on it the names of those delegates shown to be elected by the official certificates of the County Commissioners, and no others to be called to order by a chairman, also jointly selected, and the convention thus organized to decide all questions."

A copy of this resolution has been sent to Mr. Ritter, enclosed in a letter from State Chairman George W. Guthrie, in which he says:

"This resolution was adopted with an earnest purpose to provide a method by which the Democratic party of the state may be enabled to unite for the contest next fall. A convention organized in the manner proposed will certainly represent the Democratic voters of the state, and its action will declare their wishes and command their confidence and support."

"The friends of reorganization still stand for the principle that questions of organization, policy and candidates should be decided by the Democrats of the state at their primaries, and that their will thus declared and honestly ascertained should be obeyed by all."

"We are entering into a campaign for the election of a President of the United States, members of Congress, Senators, House of Representatives of the state and important state officers. The suggestion that you and I, or a few men representing us or some undisclosed principals, should meet and agree on party officials, candidates and policies and so forestall the action of the duly elected representatives of the party in matters of such vital importance cannot be considered."

"We cannot concede to any man, or group of men, the right to dictate party action. The existence of such a right would destroy the representative character of the party and make it an instrument of oppression instead of the agency of government by the people. An attempt, or even the suspicion of an attempt, by us to forestall party action will forfeit confidence and tend to increase and perpetuate the feeling which has alienated from the party those without whose earnest support it is idle to hope for victory."

"Let the representatives of the people duly elected at the primaries meet in one convention, under a joint call and under a roll made up according to law under joint supervision. Such a convention will be free from even the shadow of doubt, either as to regularity or integrity. Its action will give effect to the free will of the voters and command their confidence and support."

"We believe this proposition is absolutely fair and honorable to all."

Copies of the resolution and of Mr. Guthrie's letter have been sent out from the Democratic State Headquarters to every member of the Democratic State Central Committee and to Democratic clubs and newspapers throughout the state.

Court Notes

The following matters were disposed of at a session of court held yesterday by Associate Judges Brice and Huff:

In the estate of James H. Steekman, late of Monroe, petition for the appointment of appraisers, to appraise the real estate, read and filed; Silas Fletcher, Herman Claybaugh and Michael Means appointed.

The petition of citizens of Bedford Township for the appointment of an Inspector of Elections, read and filed; Harry E. Russell appointed.

The petition of the electors of Cumberland Valley for the appointment of a Judge of Election read and filed; Francis M. Elliott appointed.

In the estate of Warren S. Smith, late of East St. Clair, bond of the Somerset Trust Company as guardian of minor children, was filed and approved.

The petition of Doris W. and Norman R. Wiland, minor children of Hilary M. Wiland, late of Coledale, for the appointment of a guardian read and filed; Mrs. Jane T. Alexander appointed; bond in the sum of $1,000.

MR. RITTER'S REPLY

Accepts Conditions with Slight and Unimportant Changes.

Mr. Ritter's answer to Mr. Guthrie was given out Tuesday evening, which after stating that "there are but few points of difference between us; and none, in fact, but that can be easily overcome if each is sincere in his desire to effect true party union," presents the issues involved, as follows:

"First, to the organization and conduct of the coming state convention."

Second, to the election of a National Committeeman for Pennsylvania."

"Third, to the personnel of the State organization."

"As to your proposition for one convention, let me suggest:

"First, that but one convention be held, and that it convene at the Majestic Theatre in Harrisburg on Tuesday, May 7, 1912, at 12 o'clock noon."

"Second, that the convention so assembled be called to order by myself, and without comment or reference to the subject of party differences now existing; and that it at once be turned over to the temporary chairman."

"Third, that the temporary chairman be selected by you in answer to this letter from the following persons: Hon. W. Rush Gillan, President Judge of Franklin County; William A. Glasgow, Jr., of Philadelphia, or Charles J. Reilly of Williamsport, and that upon your making a selection we unite in presenting his name to the respective executive committees of which we are ex-officio chairmen, and that we join in asking them to confirm our selection for temporary chairman of the convention."

"Fourth, that the temporary chairman so chosen select and suggest the other officers for the temporary organization of the convention."

"Fifth, that the temporary chairman and secretary so selected and agreed upon, with you and me, make up the roll of the delegates to the convention in accordance with certificates of the County Commissioners of the several counties of the state."

"Sixth, that the convention thus organized proceed to a permanent organization and to the further work of the convention in accordance with the untrammelled will and rules of the party."

In opening his reply to Guthrie Chairman Ritter says:

"I appreciate with you the importance and necessity for united and sincere party harmony in the state. It would seem that there should be no reason or occasion for any continued dissension or discord in the party ranks. The coming primary elections admit of a popular referendum of our disputes to the decision of the voters of the party and to the expression of their will all can and ought to bow in hearty acquiescence. There should be but one organization and we should hold but one convention. No Democrat should be driven out of the party. Rather should all be invited to join with us in our efforts to better divide conditions in our Commonwealth. We need a united party now if we ever needed one."

"At this particular time I feel that you and I can perform an important part in arriving at such a conclusion as will insure to the lasting good of our party in the state. It may be necessary for us to make some sacrifices. That is of small concern, however, when the general welfare is to be considered. The public cares but little for the individual. It is more concerned over the practical means that can be employed to conserve the public good."

"It seems to me that there are but a few points of difference between us."

IRON ORE IN FULTON

Greatest Mineral Find Since Gold Stampede in 1849.

According to yesterday's Pittsburg Post a deposit of more than a billion tons of high-grade iron ore has been discovered in Fulton County, which is regarded as the most important mineral find since the discovery of gold in California in 1849.

The assayers claim the ore to be free from phosphorus, sulphur and copper with only a trace of manganese, hence most valuable.

The deposit is in Ayer Township in spurs of the Blue Ridge Mountains, and within a short distance from an abundance of coal.

SEEING AMERICA

Third of a Series of Interesting Articles by

PROF. J. KIMBER GRIMM

On Vacation Trip Through the West—Minneapolis to Yellowstone National Park.

To enjoy the pleasure of resting, one must work, at least engage in exercise. Our strenuous day from before sun-up until ten at night while in the twin cities had brought about this pleasure. Waking from a night's sleep, we felt ourselves at last as if some distance from the starting point; but what a sensation of delight to peer out over the vast plains of North Dakota, that wheat field state. The day was bright, clear and invigorating. The air seemed dry. Sweet singing black and red-winged birds hopped about among the box-tails and near the lakes, where Pelican and "Sea Gulls" were seen in large numbers hovering round about. Out in the distance not bounded by mountains and hills could be seen a buggy apparently going nowhere; while it was not at all uncommon to see a series of four or five teams in succession moving along a road that knew no boundary from our distance, all with the rear of the wagon filled with grass or hay, evidently for use at noon feeding time. Herds of horses and cattle could be recognized by the aid of the telescope, along the horizon, when moving teams could again be discerned that set us to solving the reason for this travel. It was the Fourth of July, and the North Dakota farmers were bound for the towns for a good time. This was noticed on passing through the town on Mandan, where our watches lost an hour of time.

Towns were few and far between in this region of long distances where the western dialect brought to ear the barbarisms, "bit," "pinto," "spuds," etc., and where the sombrero and the chaps were not uncommon. Dickinson was in the height of glee. Its buildings decorated to a finish. Its streets lined with teams, while other streets were the scenes of the race in which the cow-boy and girl played equal chance as they went galloping down the course with a speed that was wholly fitting to the delights of a cowboy. Our tramp spent a few minutes here, and sorry were we indeed, when it started away to plunge into still wilder areas.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES

Of Parents and Daughters Celebrated at One Time.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Adams, 629 Sherman Street, South Side, Johnstown, was the scene Tuesday evening of last week of an unusual anniversary celebration—the 34th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Adams being remembered and the fifth anniversary of their daughter, Mrs. C. F. Parsons, falling on the same day. The affair was a most delightful one, the evening being spent very pleasantly. Both celebrating couples received many handsome and costly gifts. J. S. Mock, a well-known musician, rendered a number of pleasing selections and at a late hour a dainty luncheon was served. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Parsons and son, of Grafton, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Chain and children of Elona; and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Miller and children, of Meyersdale. John and Mabel living at home, helped to make the affair a success.

The Adams' were former residents of Schellsburg.

David A. Woy

David A. Woy died suddenly at his home in Everett Tuesday morning, March 12, aged 33 years. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Elsie Morgart, one daughter, his mother, five brothers and one sister.

After brief funeral services were held at the late home in Everett Wednesday evening, March 13, the body was taken to Hyndman Thursday morning, where interment was made.

Brumbaugh-Nole

On Sunday, March 17, 1912, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Nole, near Six Mile Run, Charles Brumbaugh of Riddlesburg and Miss Mary Nole were united in marriage by J. L. Tenley, J. P.

Mr. Brumbaugh has been employed by the Colonial Iron Company at Riddlesburg and is the only son of David Brumbaugh, Esq. The bride is an industrious and respectable young lady. The young people will make their future home at Riddlesburg.

$3.50 RECIPE FREE, FOR WEAK MEN

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 3584 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain, ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

Surprise Party

Last Thursday evening about fifty friends of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Koonitz, Assistant Steward and Lady Assistant Steward of Pomona Grange No. 24, gave them a surprise at their home in Snake Spring Valley. Social

The Ladies' Aid and Auxiliary of the Saxton Church of God held a social in Saxton Hall, Tuesday, March 12. In spite of the inclement weather over 100 persons were in attendance. The male quartet sang several excellent selections. An address was made by the Pastor. Each member of the society was to contribute one dollar and to tell how this dollar was earned. Many told their experience in rhyme and made this part of the service very interesting. Refreshments were served and all present enjoyed the meeting.

ANOTHER GONE

Former Bedfordite Recalls Former Acquaintances—R. C. McNamara.

Chicago, Ill., March 17, 1912.

Editor of The Gazette.

Dear Sir:—Another of the old town's bright lights has gone. I have his picture clipped from your paper and posted up in my shop where I can look at it. "Bobby" McNamara. When you have your Old Home Week, let the quartet mention these names and sing "We shall meet but we shall miss him": Robert McNamara, Humphrey Tate, Harry Davidson, Ed. Horne, John Jordan, Jimmy Corboy, Harper Hafer, James Boor, Blatzer Fletcher, Moses Points, Billy Line, Harry Fisher and John Koonitz, who drove the old bell team. They all took part in the other one, but "we shall meet but we shall miss them" at this one.

Let me tell you of an incident in the life of "Bob" that will be of interest to your readers. When he was a Normalite going to school in the days when the normal school was in working order and turning out pedagogues. He was boarding at a boarding house close to the home of your correspondent and on the lot or in the garden were two pear trees that were always a source of revenue to the writer when they got ripe, selling them "two for a cent," and we always watched with eager anticipation for the pears to ripen. "Bob" got over the lines one day and was appropriating some of the pears, and my father caught him in the act, and, if any one who knows the abhorrence of "Uncle Dan," as he was called, for such a sin, he knows the lecture with the scold pedal on that Bob got.

Time rolled on and Robert came into prominence and was making his way in the world, and "Uncle Dan" became janitor of the Court House. As "Bob" was around the Court House on business considerable, he and father became friends as "Bobby" was a good mixer.

One day "Bob" said, "Uncle Dan, do you remember the boy you caught gathering pears that didn't belong to him under your pear trees?" Father had a remembrance of the incident but didn't know that "Bob" was the boy. "Well," said "Bob," "that talk you gave me was the best thing that ever happened me. I haven't forgotten it yet, and it taught me a lesson that has done more good than you think." Now he is gone, the lively, hustling, genial, jolly "Bob."

If I remember rightly I was standing by his side the night the Old Rising Sun Hotel burned—when Old "Pardy's" safe got so hot that his silver and gold melted and ran out over the sidewalk like molasses. When he discovered the big chimney tottering, he gave a yell of warning and when the chimney fell and struck the gable end it was knocked out into the street. It seemed incredible that no one was killed. Those hurt, suffered from a few bruises from flying stones. A lot of rats were found when they cleared away the wreck, expecting to find some dead people.

Can't you go back over your files and hunt up some stories of Old David Lewis, the robber that used to be the boss hold-up man in the old Forbes Road and the old stage coach and turnpike days? Since the demise of Dr. C. N. Hickok, Judge Hall, John P. Reed and some others, reminiscent stories are scarce.

Yours truly,
W. B. Shuck.

IT'S SO EASY TO END CATARRH

Go to F. W. Jordan and say I want a HYOMEL outfit—take it home—open the box—pour a few drops of HYOMEL from the bottle into the little hard rubber inhaler—breathe it for five minutes and note the refreshing relief—breathe it four or five times a day for a few days and catarrh and all its disgusting symptoms will gradually disappear.

HYOMEL contains no opium, cocaine or other harmful drug and is sold on money back plan for catarrh, asthma, croup, colds, coughs and catarrhal deafness. Complete outfit $1.00—extra bottle if needed $0.50 cents at F. W. Jordan's and druggists everywhere. Simple instructions for use in every package—you can't fail to banish catarrh if you follow instructions.

STOPS ITCHING SCALP OVERNIGHT

Guaranteed by F. W. Jordan to Stop Falling Hair and Banish Dandruff.

Itching Scalp, keeps you scratching and feeling miserable all the time. Wash your hair tonight with pure soap and water, rub on a goodly quantity of PARISIAN SAGE and the distressing itchiness will be gone in the morning.

PARISIAN SAGE is a pure, refreshing and invigorating hair dressing. Besides putting an end to scalp itch, dandruff and falling hair it nourishes the hair roots and puts a splendid radiance into faded and unattractive hair.

It should be used by every member of the family to keep the scalp free from dandruff germs and prevent baldness. Large bottle 50 cents at F. W. Jordan's and druggists everywhere.

CONAN DOYLE

Writes Greatest Adventure Story Ever Written.

The new modern story by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, which begins in The Pittsburgh Sunday Post March 24, is likely to create a bigger sensation than any tale ever written by one of the greatest masters of the story-telling art the world has known.

It is a modern tale of adventure, written in the fullness of the author's power, a product of his developed, ripened genius. Never has he written more brilliantly, more effectively. Never has he been so ingenious, so picturesque. The story is a marvel of condensation, and its action is so rapid that you will eagerly await every one of the 18 installments. It is impossible to escape the grip of its interest, because it is so full of thrills, of excitement; for the daring explorers encounter dangers that only a great imagination could conceive. And only a great writer with profound scientific knowledge could make them real.

In this story Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is not content with a plot that makes his latest novel the most sensationally interesting he has written: he has been equally concerned about his characters. One, at least, will go down in literary history as the equal of Sherlock Holmes. He is every whit as remarkable, as interesting, as the great detective, and as different as day is from night. In one respect he is superior to Sherlock Holmes, in that he is far more human.

Sir Arthur's "Sir Nigel," one of the most successful serials ever written, appeared several years ago in The Pittsburgh Sunday Post. For that story $25,000 was paid for the American serial rights alone. For this latest story from the same author he has been paid an even higher rate for each word. It isn't so long as "Sir Nigel," and we are certain you will feel sure that it is worth all its cost. Be sure to read the opening chapters of "The Lost World," in The Sunday Magazine of The Pittsburgh Post, beginning next Sunday, March 24. To make sure of your copy order in advance from your newsdealer, as an enormous extra demand will cause many newsdealers to sell out early.

News About the Spring Hat and Its Relation to a Woman's Hair

Edith M. Weidenfeld, writing of the spring hat in the March Woman's Home Companion, says that the arrangement of the hair plays a more important part in millinery than the average woman admits. The average woman, when selecting a hat, has an idea that she ought to get the newest in color, shape and trimming, regardless of its relation to the shape of her head, the contour of her face, or the arrangement of her hair. She wonders, then, why she does not like her hat after she has worn it, and it takes several long interviews with her mirror before she realizes that the hat which the saleswoman assured her was the newest thing, and becoming, is entirely inappropriate and unrelated to her own particular style.

Miss Weidenfeld goes on to give the news about spring hats. Following are brief extracts:

"Stiff, heavy straws are no longer modish; they have been succeeded by soft straw braids, and many of the new models are covered with taffeta, either plain or in changeable effects.

"Trimnings are slipping around toward the front, many being placed at the direct front, and others at the side very near that point. For dress hats, ostrich-plumes are fashionable for trimming. They lie quite flat against the hat, under or on the brim, or they stand up very straight and stiff. A single ostrich-plume, or two or three tips in Prince of Wales style, are more appropriate for spring wear than a cluster of four or five feathers with heavy flues. Wings and ornaments made of fabrics, lace, and straw braid are in good style, and so are bands of Irish, Venise, or macramé lace."

CHILDREN INJURED

Ordinary Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physic Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given, except in emergency cases. Ordinary pills, cathartics and purgatives are apt to do more harm than good. They may cause griping, nausea and other distressing after-effects that are frequently health-destroying.

We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as the safest and most dependable remedy, which we know, for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such absolute faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies commonly completely relieve constipation, except of course when of a surgical character. They also tend to overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition. Three sizes of packages, 10 cents, 25 cents and 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Bedford only at our store—The Rexall Store. F. W. Jordan.

Ida M. Tarbell's Advice to Every Young Woman

Writing of "The Homeless Daughter" in the April American Magazine, Ida M. Tarbell says

"The most essential thing for a woman to understand is that her business is not to order her daughter's life but to assist that daughter to shape it herself. She should be prepared to say to her: 'The most interesting and important thing in the world for you is to work out your own particular life. You must build it from the place where you stand and with the materials in your hands. Nobody else ever stood in your particular place or ever will stand in one identical; nobody ever has or can possess the same materials. You alone can fuse the elements. Hold your place, do not try to shift into the place that another occupies. Keep your eye on what you have to work with, not on what somebody else has. The ultimate result, the originality, flavor, distinction, usefulness of your life depend on the care, the reverence, and the intelligence with which you work up and out from where you are and with what you have.'

"It is only the woman who is prepared to say something like that to her daughter, to help her to see it, and to rise to it that has brought into her home the spirit of today."

How Cold Causes Kidney Disease. Partly by driving blood from the surface and congesting the kidneys, and partly by throwing too much work upon them. Foley Kidney Pills strengthen the kidneys, give tone to the urinary organs and restore the normal action of the bladder. They are tonic in action, quick in results. Try them. Ed. D. Heckerman.

George R. Miller

George R. Miller died at his home in Johnstown, Sunday afternoon, March 17, aged 75 years. He was a son of the late Isaac and Mary Ann Wright Miller and was born at Pleasantville. In 1878 he moved to Johnstown, where he has since resided. Besides his wife, one brother and one sister survive: John Miller of Salemville and Mrs. Rebecca Kinkead of Everett. Interment was made in the Pleasantville Cemetery.

Postmaster Wanted

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that on Saturday, April 13, 1912, an examination will be held at Fossilville for the position of fourth-class postmaster at Speelman. The compensation of the postmaster at this office was $58 for the last fiscal year. The age limit is 21 years and over.

Applicants must reside within the territory supplied by the postoffice for which the examination is announced.

Application forms and full information can be secured from the postmaster at Speelman or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Applications should be properly executed and filed with the Commissioner at Washington within seven days before the date of the examination.

R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J., was troubled with a severe la grippe cough. He says: "I would be completely exhausted after each fit of violent coughing. I bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and before I had taken it all the coughing spells had entirely ceased. It can't be beat." Ed. D. Heckerman.

Mann's Choice Literary Society

The last meeting for the term of the Mann's Choice Literary Society will be held in the school auditorium Friday evening, March 22, beginning at 7:30. The question, Resolved, That an eight-hour working day should be adopted in the United States by Federal law, will be discussed. In addition to the debate the program contains music, recitations, oration, drama and other numbers.

MAINE BURIED

Wreck of Battleship Sunk in Gulf of Mexico.

Havana, March 18.—While great guns boomed a requiem salute over all that was left of the battleship Maine, her shattered, rusty decks strewn with thousands of American beauty roses, her sides drooped in black and the Stars and Stripes flying from her masthead, was sunk to a final resting place in the Gulf of Mexico, nine miles off the Cuban coast in sixty fathoms of water on Saturday.

The sea burial was the climax of a day devoted to mourning throughout the entire city. Business was suspended and nearly every building flew a United States or Cuban flag at half-mast. Solemn high mass was celebrated for the sixty-five dead sailors. After mass the bodies were carried aboard the battleship North Carolina, which with the cruiser Birmingham conveyed the Maine to her final resting place.

The bones of the seamen will be interred in Arlington Cemetery, Washington, March 23.

A GREAT RECORD

Hard to Duplicate It in Bedford. Scores of representative citizens of Bedford are testifying for Doan's Kidney Pills. Such a record of local endorsement is unequalled in modern times. This public statement made by a citizen is but one of the many that have preceded it and the hundreds that will follow. Read it:

Mrs. S. S. Whetstone, 233 West John St., Bedford, Pa., says: "I suffered severely from pains in my back and I always felt nervous and depressed. At times I was so dizzy that I could hardly see. After taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at John R. Dull's Drug Store, I felt better and as I continued their use all symptoms of my trouble gradually disappeared. I am grateful to Doan's Kidney Pills for the cure they effected." (Statement given October 14, 1907.)

Two Years Later

When Mrs. Whetstone was interviewed on November 15, 1909, she said: "I have had no need of a kidney remedy since I took Doan's Kidney Pills. I willingly confirm all I have previously said in favor of this preparation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other. Mar. 15-2t.

Your Lungs and Throat.

The preparation mentioned by the Rev. Chas. Sager has been for over sixty years of incalculable worth to sufferers from consumption, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, grippe, coughs, colds and all lung and throat diseases, and is a household remedy in many, many homes to which it has brought health and happiness.

Mr. C. A. ABBOTT, August 22, 1905.
63 Ave. St., New York City.
Dear Sir: I have known for over 40 years of the effects of Wilson's Remedy (Wilson's Preparation of Iodophosphates and Bismuth) in cases of pulmonary troubles. At this point I will say to you that you have not before known of that 40 years since, while I was a resident of N. Y. City, I was severely ill with lung trouble. Physicians said I was a consumptive and my family physician told my wife that he thought I could not recover. My attention was directed to the Wilson Remedy, which I used with splendid effect. I have been on my feet and at work ever since my cure. Yours truly,
REV. CHAS. SAGER.

Pastor M. E. Church, Hunter, (Greene Co.), N. Y.

The above letter shows what a great boon the Wilson Remedy was to Mr. Sager, but it is but one of thousands received testifying to the curative powers of this wonderful remedy. Write at once to Mr. Abbott at the above address and he will furnish you convincing proof of the great worth to humanity of this preparation.

Bedford Gazette

ESTABLISHED IN 1805

S. A. VAN ORMER,
Editor and Publisher.

The Bedford Gazette is a model among country newspapers.—New York World.

The Gazette is the leading newspaper of Bedford County and its circulation is far ahead of any of its contemporaries. As an advertising medium it is one of the best in this part of the state.

Regular subscription price per year $1.50, payable in advance.

Card of Thanks, 50c; Resolutions, $1.00.

All communications should be addressed to

Gazette Publishing Co.,
Bedford, Pa.

FRIDAY MORNING, MAR. 22, 1912.

PARTY HARMONY IN SIGHT

The letter of George W. Guthrie and the reply of Walter E. Ritter, looking toward party harmony, printed in this issue should be read with satisfaction by the rank and file of the Democracy of Pennsylvania.

Such an agreement as is looked for and as is suggested in these communications will eliminate the leaders of both factions, which is, we believe, the only solution of the problem.

That the equation cannot be solved without eliminating both these quantities has been the contention of The Gazette from the beginning of the fight.

Failure to submit to arbitration months ago the existing differences between the contestants called forth the following editorial in The Gazette and we believe now as we believed when we wrote:

"Shame it is that the past differences cannot be forgotten and a united front placed before the common enemy that has made the once fair name of Pennsylvania but a hissing.

Mistakes there have been, it is true, many of them, and mistakes will continue to be made, but the greatest mistake in years, so far as the party is concerned in this state, is being made just now by a band of self-appointed leaders in refusing to enter into harmonious relations; to sacrifice self and selfish ambitions for the party's welfare. Whatever the errors of the old organization, real or fancied, may be, those who have set up another organization are showing no fealty to the Democratic party in Pennsylvania when they refuse to arbitrate or enter into an agreement by which both organization heads step down and out, thus permitting the election of those who have not been actively associated with either faction."

There is no longer time for parlying; the time is here to act, and the failure to close the now small gap that divides the two lines must necessarily heap condemnation upon the heads of those who hesitate. The party's welfare is at stake

COME INTO THE OPEN

If a local newspaper correspondent had lived in early days the Latin historian would not have begun his commentaries "All Gaul is divided into three parts," for this unscrupulous correspondent would have been conceded possession of the realm undivided.

In Monday's Johnstown Democrat, referring to The Gazette's editorial of last week, with regard to the recent meeting of the County Committee, this correspondent still insists that the committee endorsed Guthrie and his reorganizers (?), despite the fact that Mr. Guthrie's name was not mentioned in the meeting, either in any of the addresses or in resolution. These are facts known to all who were present.

He makes accusations against the editor of The Gazette which are equally false and he knows them to be false as do the delegates

Editor Bailey of the Democrat on Wednesday by phone, holding to a newspaper custom, refused to reveal the name of the author but yesterday printed the telephone denial of the writer.

We have no time to devote to hunting vipers among the grass tufts of a protected pasture lot, but we venture the assertion that if Mr. Bailey would open the gates and reveal the correspondent he would much resemble one in disrepute in politics and in business.

Why not come out into the open? Who is the "prominent Democrat" referred to, and what is the name of the correspondent to whom he dictated?

Jonathan Wiser

Jonathan Wiser died at his home near Hopewell on Monday, March 18, aged 83 years, two months and 17 days. He was born near McConnellsburg, Fulton County, December 31, 1828, and has been a resident of Hopewell the past 43 years. On May 28, 1851, he was united in marriage with Matilda Adams, who, with one son and three daughters, survive: Bartley H. Wiser of Hopewell, Mrs. Venie Nash of Figart, Cambria County, Mrs. Mary Eichelberger of Stoyestown, Somerset County, and Mrs. Ella Fox of Juniata.

The funeral services were conducted in the M. E. Church, Hopewell on Thursday, March 21, by Rev. Batzell of Tatesville. Interment was made in the I. O. O. F. Cemetery, Hopewell. Six grandsons acted as pall bearers.

Mr. Wiser was a veteran of the Civil War, serving in the 49th Regt. Pa. Volunteers.

New Paris

March 20—"Mother" Bertram of Bedford is now visiting relatives in our village.

Mrs. G. M. McMillen spent a few days last week with friends at and near Bedford.

J. W. Gephart has been stopping in our village during the past few weeks.

Roy Davis and wife, of Mann's Choice, are spending a few days at the home of Mr. Davis' parents.

S. T. Taylor left Wednesday morning to attend the annual conference of the M. E. Church which convenes at Williamsport this week. Mr. Taylor represents this place as a delegate.

Misses Ethel Hoover and Ruth Sleek are home from West Chester Normal during a short vacation.

Saturday evening, March 16, Samuel Stultz died at his home near New Paris, aged 57 years, two months and 29 days. He is survived by his wife and one son, Charles; a brother, James B. Stultz, of near New Paris and a sister, Mrs. E. B. Bowers of Stoyestown. The funeral, which occurred on Monday, was conducted by Rev. J. B. Miller. Interment was made in the Reformed Cemetery at New Paris. The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers: John L. Blackburn, Howard Moore, William L. Blackburn, George W. Carson, Charles Harbaugh and Martin Hinton. Caj.

Schellsburg

March 21—We have had several days of fine spring weather this week and hope it may continue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Culp were Bedford visitors on Saturday.

Miss Lou Shaffer of Frostburg, Md., spent several days with her sister recently.

S. R. Mansfield and Mrs. Tompkins are spending some time in Johnstown.

Dr. E. L. Smith was a business visitor to Johnstown a day or so recently.

Our schools are drawing to a close. Only one week more remains and teachers and pupils are busy with examinations and grading for next year. Prof. Wolfe will conduct a term of Normal School, which will begin April 22. He will be assisted by Miss Bess Hull of this place and Miss Charity Blackburn of Springhope. Both ladies are graduates of West Chester State Normal School and are experienced teachers. Prof. Wolfe has expectations of a large school.

The work on the state road in our borough has commenced. On Tuesday the two large steam rollers that have been idle all winter were put into operation and there is one at work at each end of town. The road from one end to the other has been scraped, which has helped the road considerably, although the dirt is still along the side. The teams have commenced hauling through the town again, which livens up the old burg very much.

Little Fred, the eighteen months' old son of Grover and Margaret Wendal, died on Sunday of pneumonia and was buried at New Paris on Wednesday. The parents have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

Robert Clark and Lee F. Hoffman, of Bedford, were in town on Tuesday. J. W. Ridenour and wife had Miss Elizabeth Schell, of Bedford, made a short visit to relatives here on Tuesday.

Messrs. Rinard and Eichelberger, of Everett, were in town on Tuesday, looking after the insurance business.

Mrs. Sophia Shull moved on Wednesday from Mann's Choice to her house here, which she bought from John Hammer a short time ago.

David Shollenberger and family and Ed. Perdue and family have moved from the Linlow Home farm a few miles north of here to the Willard Colvin house, west of town.

DIED

MOOREHEAD—Saturday evening, March 9, Mrs. Jennie Moorehead, died in Salem, O., aged 35 years. She was born in Bean's Cove, this county. Her husband, six children, four brothers and three sisters survive. Interment was made at Salem, O.

CLAYCOMB—Wednesday afternoon, March 20, Fred Claycomb died suddenly at his home in Altoona. He was born in this county February 12, 1854. The funeral services will be conducted Saturday afternoon at the late home by Rev. G. W. Faus. Interment will be made in Fairview Cemetery, Altoona.

Mrs. Margaret Imler

Early Saturday morning, March 16, 1912, the Angel of Death passed over our Valley and called to her rest, Mrs. Margaret Cashman Imler. Mrs. Imler was born at Ore Hill, Bedford County, November 11, 1837. Her maiden name was Margaret Cashman. She was a member of a large family and at the age of fourteen came to Pleasant Valley to live with an aunt, Mrs. Biddle. When eighteen years old she became a member of Messiah Lutheran Church. In later years her membership was transferred to the Pleasant Valley congregation of the same faith, where she remained a faithful member until her death. On November 19, 1857, she was united in marriage to Charles Imler of Pleasant Valley. To this union one son was born, Job Imler of Imlertown.

Mrs. Imler had been ill during the greater part of the winter but a few weeks ago she became convalescent and we had hopes of her recovery. But about a week before her death she contracted a heavy cold which resulted in pneumonia. In her weakened condition she was unable to resist the ravages of this disease and Saturday morning she fell asleep. She was aged 74 years, four months and five days. She is survived by her son, a granddaughter, Pauline Imler, one sister, Mrs. Bechtel of Iowa, and one brother, Mr. Cashman of Ore Hill, who is now in his eightieth year. About ten years ago a loved and talented grandson, Gilbert Imler, preceded her to the better world and but little more than a year ago her husband joined the grandson. She has gone to be with them.

The funeral was held at Pleasant Valley church Monday morning, March 18. The services were conducted by Rev. E. E. Snyder of the Lutheran Church, assisted by Rev. E. A. G. Hermann of the Reformed Church. A large crowd attended the service. Interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

"Mother" Imler was a woman of beautiful Christian character. For more than fifty-six years she had been a member of the Lutheran Church, and her faith was one of life and of deeds as well as of profession. Her home was for many years the Mecca of the travelers throughout this vicinity. All found a hospitable welcome. She fed the hungry; she gave help to the needy; she was unfailing in her ministry to the sick; she comforted the sorrowing. Even the beggar and the tramp knew her kindness and never were they turned from her door hungry. Every child in the community knew her and loved her as a mother. Her words were few, but her deeds many. Her life was one that speaks eloquently of the beauty and nobility of service. Long after her lips are silent and cold, her deeds will speak in the lives of those who knew her. The calm assurance with which she met each sorrow and trial; her implicit faith that the One to whom she had entrusted her life "doeth all things well" should be an inspiration to every Christian. She has gone to be at rest—rest in more perfect service. A Friend.

Devoe Takes Least Gallons: Always

Paint Devoe; it's the cheapest paint in the world; never mind the price; it may or may not be more. Less gallons will paint the house; and the paint will outwear anything. Skip wear; you've got to wait, to find that out. It covers more; you haven't got to wait to find that out. It's the cheapest of all; no matter about the price.

Mr. A. J. Smith, Littlestown, Pa., painted his house; his painter told him to get 13½ gallons Devoe; had 4½ left.

Mr. A. H. Rebert, same town, has lots of buildings; paints Devoe; pays 20 cents more a gallon for it; is glad to; says it's the cheapest paint there is.

That's how. Sold by Metzger Hardware and House Furnishing Company.

MR. RITTER'S REPLY

and none in fact, but that can easily be overcome if each is sincere in his desire to effect true party union."

As to National Committeeman After stating his proposed means of cementing the party in one convention Ritter continues:

"This substantially meets your suggestion as to a simple harmonious convention. I believe the adoption of the provisions outlined would insure a legal convention in so far as the nominations to be made by it are concerned, and they are certainly eminently fair and just to all parties concerned, and without the possibility of factional advantage."

"An equally serious matter with the holding of the convention, and one that has caused and will cause more bitter discussion and feeling in the party is that of the National Committeemanship."

"I feel that this is a serious subject for consideration in these negotiations. Colonel Guffey, the present National Committeeman, is sincerely anxious to see our differences settled, and the party firmly united. To this end he has declared privately and publicly that under no circumstances will he again be a candidate for, nor will he accept, the position of National Committeeman."

"Mr. Palmer has claimed title to this position. His claim has been passed upon and rejected by the Democratic National Committee. He is now a candidate for the office, for the next term. His candidacy and his claim of title have already aroused unfortunate contention. I believe his continued candidacy or his selection would mean continued party discord. With yourself he has been most active in the rival organization of which you claim to be the chairman. As a part of the general scheme for party unification I now ask that Mr. Palmer make a declaration as pronounced as that made by Colonel Guffey, that he will not be a candidate for National Committeeman at the Baltimore convention."

As to State Organization

"The State Central Committee under the party rules will convene in July to select a state chairman whose term of office will begin on the first Monday of January, 1913. Let me suggest as a further part of this plan that you preside at that meeting. That neither you nor I be candidates for the chairmanship at that time. That after an election is had under the party rules, we both immediately tender our resignations for the remainder of the terms we both claim and ask the committee to select the new chairman as elected to fill the vacancy thus created from that date until the time when his term would otherwise regularly begin, to wit, in January, 1913."

"I feel that these suggestions are fair and equitable and that they will fully cover the points that are now at issue in the party throughout the state. Colonel Guffey has already by his declaration eliminated himself from the controversy. I am willing to relinquish the position of chairman which I now hold, for the sake of party harmony. I ask you and Mr. Palmer to meet us on this common ground. I would have you believe that the great mass of Democrats throughout the state want a united party, and are more concerned over that result than they are as to whether you or I be State Chairman or whether Mr. Palmer be National Committeeman. Let us make the concession for the common good."

"I am further convinced that such action at this time may save some Congressional and Legislative districts to our party."

"If you and Mr. Palmer are willing to do your part and you will signify that fact in your answer to me, the chapter of our party troubles will be ended and a method for party harmony based on the will of the Democratic voters declared at the primary election will be established."

"I shall be very glad to meet you at any convenient time for promptly carrying into effect a result so much desired by all true Democrats in order that the party energy may hereafter be directed, as it should be, solely to the party's and the country's welfare."

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

My Farewell Announcement

To the thousands of friends who have been my patrons during the past thirty-five years I announce my retirement from active business.

In making the announcement I take this opportunity of thanking my patrons for their continued support and confidence in the Ridenour Jewelry Store.

These business relations have been a pleasure to me. I hope that the satisfaction in them has been equally great to my patrons.

I hope that in every case the business transacted has been of mutual benefit.

The Ridenour Jewelry Store was established in Bedford on January 15, 1877.

It has at all times remained within a stone's throw of its original location.

From the day of its founding it was intended that the business should give the best service and the most dependable quality of merchandise that could be secured.

I believe that the growth of the business has shown that the people of Bedford county and neighboring counties have recognized and have appreciated this purpose.

Mr. J. Floyd Murdock Has Purchased The Ridenour Jewelry Store

Mr. J. Floyd Murdock has purchased outright the entire stock and good will of the Ridenour Jewelry Store.

He takes charge of the business at once.

It is with a deep sense of gratification that I leave the business in his hands.

I know of no other man more competent to maintain the high standards of merchandise and the excellence of service for which this store stands.

I Want My Friends To Know Mr. Murdock

Mr. Murdock has been in my employment for close to two years.

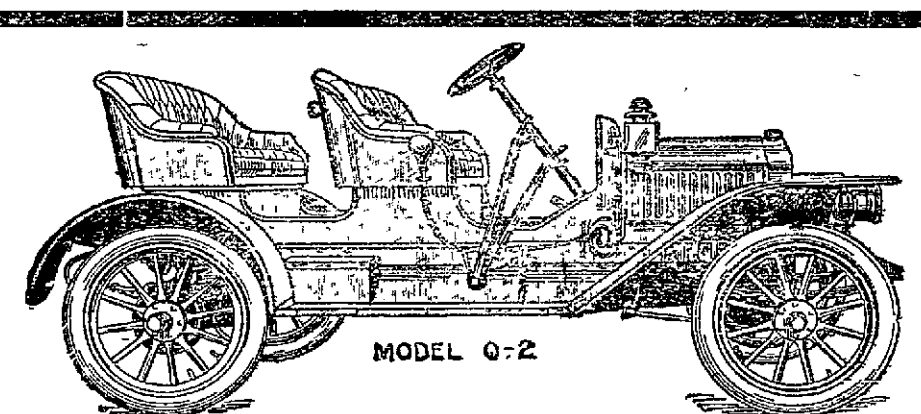

He is one of the very few very best watchmakers that I have known during my thirty-five years of active business life.

I believe that this statement is too mild. I believe that he is the best workman with whom I have ever been associated.

I want all of my patrons to know him.

All books and papers will be left in the hands of Mr. J. F. Murdock, my successor, for collection. All rents should be paid to him.

ED. D. HECKERMAN'S SUCCESS

Great Popularity of Plan to Sell Medicine at Half-Price and Guarantee a Cure.

Ed. D. Heckerman, the enterprising druggist, rather than await the ordinary methods of introduction, urged the Dr. Howard Company to secure a quick sale for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by offering the regular 50c bottle at half price.

In addition to selling a 50c bottle of Dr. Howard's Specific for 25c Ed. D. Heckerman has so much faith in the Remedy that he will refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

When your head aches your stomach does not digest food easily and naturally when there is constipation, specks before the eyes, tired feeling, giddiness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, heart burn, sour stomach, roaring or ringing in the ears, melancholy and liver troubles Dr. Howard's Specific will cure you. If it does not, it will not cost you a cent.

This latest achievement of science is of great value in curing sick headache. Thousands of women are today free from that painful disease solely through the use of this specific.

Do not fail to attend the Spring Millinery Opening at Mrs. Ella Gilchrist's, March 29 and 30.

Spraying time for San Jose scale is here and a number of parties are making the home-boiled lime-sulphur solution, which is made at the small cost of five cents a gallon, concentrated, as against 18 to 20 cents or even more for the commercial. Anyone by taking the proportionate amounts of lime and sulphur to Charles A. Hunt can, at a very reasonable cost, have the solution made at his mill while waiting, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of boiling it in a kettle by fire.

At a meeting of Grange last Thursday afternoon a number of resolutions were drafted, signed and forwarded to our Congressman and representative, one of which is of special importance to farmers and dairymen, favoring the passing of the Hangen bill and opposing the Lever bill on oleomargarine.

Following is the program for the next meeting, Thursday, March 28, at 1:30 o'clock: Resolved, That the White and Brown Leghorns and Black Minorcas are more profitable than Rhode Island Red, Plymouth Rock and Buff Orpington breeds. Discussion to be opened on the affirmative by Mrs. W. F. Biddle; negative, H. G. Diehl. Samuel Cessna was elected purchasing agent for the organization.

A number of our farmers expect to buy the chemicals in bulk and do the home mixing of fertilizers this spring, thereby making a great saving. Members wanting goods of this kind should at once forward their orders with cash to Mr. Cessna.

JOHN FOX, JR.'S, NEW NOVEL

"The Heart of the Hills" Will Begin in the April Scribner.

Two of the most widely read stories published in Scribner's Magazine during the past twenty-five years were "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" and "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," by John Fox, Jr. In book form they were long listed among the "best sellers," and their popularity goes on year after year. Mr. Fox's new story, which will run nearly through the year, will commence in the April number. It has a most attractive title, "The Heart of the Hills," and its title is fair promise of the charm of the story. This is a story of vivid contrasts. The people of the Mountains are brought in contact with the people of the Blue Grass. The main interest of the plot revolves about a boy and girl of the hills and a boy and girl of the plains. It is their development from a crude childhood to wiser maturity that enchains the reader. They are real people, as appealing and lovable as Chad or June of Fox's previous stories. There are dramatic action, humor, sentiment and pathos, and something of political turmoil. It is a story near at hand in its people and interest—a picture of modern Kentucky. Illustrations by F. C. Yohn.

HECKERMAN LETTER

Interesting Communication From the Blue Grass State.

Greenup, Ky., March 19, 1912.

This is a quiet town of a thousand on the bank of the Ohio River. Few trains stop here, hence the writer comes this way only now and then. There is but one wholesale house here, and that is owned by the Union Grocery Company and managed by Mr. Webb, a prince of good fellows. He has worked the wholesale grocery business up very much and I am led to think from appearances that he has feathered his nest with green backs, as a result of his labors.

We all know that it is no longer fashionable to wear a chip on your shoulder and go strutting about. If you have neglected to cast your chips into the scrap pile, for goodness sake get a move on and do it at once. No more sitting idly by.

Just when and where the custom of wearing a chip on your shoulder originated I do not know. You have some in Bedford who want to get rid of their chips and do it quickly, else they will shake the dust and never know how good one feels who has the ability to hustle and does it.

Thank goodness we are now living in an age of naturalness, a period in which cold dignity is on the bargain counter at out of date prices, and the market today are those who are not afraid to throw the chip from off the shoulder themselves and not wait to be dared to do so by another, who will beat you, if you don't look out. Cultivate the spirit of happiness and you will feel like working. Close your eyes to the weakness of your neighbors, the errors of your friends, the thoughts of how much they are each one earning, whilst you are not earning anything, and you will have more time and strength to see their virtues. To be truly attractive to others cast the chip from your shoulder and live in that triangle formed by love, life, laughter and work. For the moral of the old song is as strong today as it was long ago:

"The joy will come if you do your part, And learn to smile and find duty 'e'en fair."

Billy Sunday, the great evangelist, has been holding a series of meetings in many of the Ohio cities, and last Sunday I went to hear him. "Tis said that the audience was slightly larger than on some other days. The estimated number present was 3,000. He urged the people to acknowledge their Christianity before the world and to try to bring others to God. He said, "Let your light shine before you so that men can see you and follow the light." The sermon was very interesting and instructive. I got a copy of the Tabernacle Tabloids, which I will copy for your readers.

"The trouble with some of you Christians is that you let your light shine on Sunday and look like a London fog the rest of the week."

"You can be the biggest devil this side of Perdition and sit in a pew and sing hymns."

"Some of you folks say 'I don't like to have the church shut up and go up to the Tabernacle.' Then you are mighty rotten Christians. I know lots of them wearing white neckties that ought to hit the sawdust trail."

"Don't look as if your religion hurts you like a tight shoe."

"Love is the greatest thing in the world but character is the grandest."

"Jesus Christ broke up every funeral he attended by giving life to the dead."

"Do you believe capital and labor should give each other a square deal? Jesus does."

"You poor idiot, if you put your puny personality against God, may the Lord have mercy on you."

Take Christianity out of Bedford and real estate would not be worth ten cents on the dollar next Fourth of July.

"Some Christians couldn't wear a longer face if they were sure God was dead and in the morgue."

"There is no worse mistake than to think that God wants you to look sad and gloomy when you put on your good clothes and go to church."

If Jesus Christ were in Bedford to-night he would be in this tabernacle and right down here on the platform. He would say, "Amen Bill, you're right, soak it to 'em." The crowds that go to hear this man preach are great.

Today the sun is shining and I either hear a bird singing or a hen cackling. We have, since I left Pittsburgh, had rain or snow every day, save, perhaps, one.

The Ohio River is on a high horse.

Backache Almost Unbearable

Is an almost certain result of kidney trouble. D. Toomey, 803 E. Olive St., Bloomington, Ill., says: "I suffered with backache and pains in my kidneys which were almost unbearable. I gave Foley Kidney Pills a good trial, and they done wonders for me. Today I can do a hard day's work and not feel the effects." Ed. D. Heckerman.

I wanted to cross one day from Ironton, O., to Russell, Ky., and when in mid-stream the rudder got mixed and we floundered around in the river a few hours, and then did not get over.

Thanks for the paper. So Bedford County is again dry. I pity Charlie and Peter. Send me a paper to Willard Hotel, Louisville, Ky.

Yours truly,

Dictograph Reveals Crime

The dictograph, the sensitive instrument which has lent itself so marvelously to the purpose of securing evidence of crime, is described in an illustrated article in the April Popular Mechanics Magazine. The instrument comprises a most sensitive transmitter, a receiver, a small battery and as much wire as is necessary. The entire outfit can be held in one hand and not cover all the fingers. The transmitter can be placed anywhere in the room where the person whose evidence is desired will be most likely to talk.

In the Ohio bribery cases it was used in a hotel, it was placed on a table under papers. It might be hung on the wall beneath a picture or a calendar, an ordinary pin being strong enough to hold it in place. Silk-covered wire can be run from the transmitter to whatever room the operator desires, and when connected, the person holding the receiver to his ear hears distinctly every word uttered in the room where the transmitter has been placed. Stenographers, if so equipped, can make a verbatim report of such conversations, as has been done in several criminal cases.

A New Trick in Photography

Rufus Steele, writing of rainbow trout fishing in Northern California, April Outing, gives this trip to camera artists baffled by the combined problems of running water and deep shade:

"A friend coming back from Europe had met on the steamer a lady, who had heard her brother telling their aunt that his roommate at college had married a girl whose camera-friend cousin said that moving water in the shade could be successfully photographed by setting the camera on a tripod as for a time exposure and taking a series of instantaneous snapshots on the same film or plate. My friend, who didn't believe it, told me. In theory it was not convincing, but it was seized upon as a spear, however frail, with which to attack the defiant old Shovel.

The trick does work. It works to perfection.

The Harder Way.

The way of the transgressor is hard, but the way of one against whom he transgresses is harder.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for delegate from the Nineteenth Congressional district, comprising the counties of Blair, Bedford and Cambria, to the next Democratic National Convention, to be held at Baltimore, to be voted for at the primaries on April 13, and if elected will vote for, and use my influence to secure the nomination of Honorable Woodrow Wilson for President.

THOMAS H. GREVVY.

Altoona, Pa., Feb. 19, 1912.

I hereby announce myself as candidate for Delegate to Democratic State Convention, pledged to support National Delegates who are favorable to the nomination of Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey for president.

W. R. SPEER.

Everett, Pa.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative in the General Assembly, subject to the decision of the Democratic voters of Bedford County at the primary election to be held on April 13.

JOHN T. MATT,

Everett Borough.

The "Memoirs of a White Indian," which have given so much pleasure to readers of The Youth's Companion for a year or more, continue to be one of the striking features in the paper. After reading these faithful accounts of life among the Blackfeet fifty years ago, one cannot subscribe to the sentiment that the only good Indian is a dead Indian. These papers will be followed soon by a serial story of Blackfoot life, by the same author, entitled, "Quest of the Fish-Dog Skin."

The Horse.

The reins may guide the horse, but bit may inspire him by its careful manipulation and the whip may urge him forward to greater ambition, but the human voice is far more potent than all these agencies. Its assuring tones will more quickly dispel his fright, its sharp, clear, electric commands, will more thoroughly arouse his ambition and its gentle, kindly praises will more completely encourage the intelligent road horse than the united force of the bit and reins and the lash. No animal in domestic use more readily responds to the power of kindness than the road horse—Exchange.

His Egotism.

"What is the matter with Jones? He used to be a modest sort of fellow, but lately he seems almost bursting with self importance."

"Haven't you heard? Mrs. Jones is suing another woman for alienation of his affections and puts the damage at $50,000."—Judge.

The Law.

Of all the parts of a law, the most effectual is the vindictory, for it is but lost labor to say, "Do this or avoid that," unless we also declare, "This shall be the consequence of your non-compliance." The main strength and force of a law consist in the penalty annexed to it.—Blackstone.

Finding Ancestors.

PAPER BAG COOKING

Great System Perfected by M. Soyer, Famous London Chef.

DUEL BETWEEN PAN AND BAG.

By Martha McCulloch Williams.

Experience has been my only school—which, perhaps, accounts for the fact that I hold no opinions half heartedly. Especially about cooking. It seems to me the finest of fine arts, all too much misprised, and held a drudgery instead of a privilege. Possibly this makes me reactionary—a holder-fast to old methods. Certainly when Soyer's paper bag cooking was suggested to me, there was not a stouter skeptic in all these United States. Soyer's experience did nothing to change my mind. Rather, it convinced me that paper bag cooking was one of the things that cost more than they come to. For I set myself this sum. Bags, plus greasing, plus clips, equal the cost of many sauce pans. Furthermore, it is against sense and reason that the mere putting of food in a bag should either hasten the cooking or better the flavor of it. Thus I argued the case forthrightly, but ended by concession—I would try out paper bags and see what I should see.

The first bag left me warmly triumphant. Wisdom ferments like yeast. As I acquired it, there was no keeping it to myself. It dripped down upon my next story neighbor, a cook both born and made. She was interested but skeptical—less so than I had been, notwithstanding an open mind. So when I proposed an experiment—a culinary duel, if you please—whose result was to be decided by the scales, she was ready, even eager to engage in it.

Each of us bought a rib roast—here weighing four pounds, mine but three. To the eye, they were identical save in the matter of size. And our ranges are oven-brothers, made by exactly the same pattern. Her roast went into a pan, mine into a bag. Not having to baste nor watch mine, after the flame was turned down properly, I had liberty to run in on her and see how she fared. She was doing her best—a best that is superlative, watching and basting her beef with the skill of a chef. The result was something beautiful to behold when she took it out after little more than an hour. Mine was still in the oven, its bag intact, though I had turned out the gas after forty-five minutes. It had not been on full for forty minutes, whereas my neighbor had kept hers lowered only the least bit. The exact saving of gas I do not undertake to compute—but that there was a saving is beyond question.

The scales showed her roast to have lost in weight a fraction over nine ounces. Mine, lighter by a pound, had lost a fraction under two ounces. Furthermore, all the strength of my meat was in the gravy. A fifth at least of hers remained sticking to the pan, though she treated it in the usual way. We reckoned that a paper bag would have saved her a half pound weight of beef, equivalent to twelve cents, the cost of many paper bags. Indeed, I felt that the gas saving alone would have more than paid for the bag, the clips, the greasing. Moreover, my beef was tenderer than hers, had a richer taste, and was juicier.

Smothered Chicken.—Have a good sized broiler cut into joints, taking care not to leave sharp bones to the joints. Salt and pepper them lightly, dredge with flour and lay in a well-greased bag upon thin slices of bacon. Cover with more bacon slices, taking care to keep the chicken spread rather flat. Add a tablespoonful of water, or a couple of peeled and sliced tomatoes. Shreds of green pepper add somewhat of flavor to the tomatoes. Seal in bag and cook for forty minutes, slacking heat almost half after the first five minutes. (Copyright, 1911, by the Associated Literary Press.)

PLAIN ROASTS.

By Nicolas Soyer, Chef of Brooke's Club, London.

Sirloin, Round, or Ribs of Beef.—Grease well with drippings (but this is not absolutely necessary). Put the joint in a bag. Do not season the joint before cooking. Put the joint on a broiler, in a moderate oven. For a three-pound joint allow forty-five minutes; a seven-pound joint, an hour and twenty minutes; fourteen pounds, two hours and fifteen minutes.

Veal Mutton, or Pork can be cooked in the same way as beef. If a thick gravy is required, roll the joint in flour before placing in the bag. Allow the same time as for beef.

Roast Chicken.—Cover the breast of the fowl or chicken with butter or drippings, or, better still, tie a piece of fat bacon over it. Place in a bag and set on broiler in a hot oven. Allow twenty-five minutes for a small spring chicken, thirty-five minutes for a large fowl, forty-five to fifty minutes (according to size) for stuffed poultry or game, in a moderate oven.

Roast Turkey or Goose.—Allow one and a quarter hours in a moderate oven; if stuffed, allow one hour and forty-five minutes to two hours.

Roast Pigeon.—This requires very delicate cooking. My method cooks a pigeon to perfection, whether it is stuffed or not. To roast, allow fifteen minutes in a very hot oven; if stuffed, allow twenty to twenty-five minutes. (Copyright, 1911, by Sturgis & Walton Company.)

SEEING AMERICA

The plains now gave way to rolling fields where the dug-out appeared to be the only element of decoration. The loneliness of those homes was emphasized by the absence of all human beings; yet markers in the way of trousers, handkerchiefs, etc., made it indisputable that some one lived there who had hung these articles upon the line. Then came the rough country known as the bad lands, which many an American has longed to see. The beauty of the landscape was indescribable. The camera was forced into play as we went skidding on by those huge mounds of "scoriae" and ash, our only regret being that the lens would doubtless not be able to pick up the numberless little prairie-dogs that sat upon their haunches in bold defiance until their hearts failed, and they dipped down into the burrow in a wink. Medora, the home of the presidential rough-rider, Roosevelt, brought everyone to their feet as the actual building where he resided was pointed out. Here badlands and sagebrush held full sway. Nor were these highly colored mounds bearing mute history of erosion and abrasion to be passed in a few minutes time. Prettier formations would appear and reappear until we were led to ask how large an area they actually covered, how they came here and of what good to man.

In reply, we learned that the North Dakota "Badlands" cover approximately an area of 2,000 square miles, being a tract along the Little Missouri 12 miles in width and 180 miles in length. Of this area, fully one-half is capable of cultivation and much of it is very fertile, even to the top of the grotesque butts that shut off our vision into the depths of the plains before described. This area refers only to those lands in North Dakota, as they extend beyond the state into South Dakota and Wyoming. In reply to the cause of these natural formations, it is now conceded that the peculiar formation is caused by the age-long burning beneath the surface of vast beds of lignite coal causing the abrupt and irregular subsidence of the upper crust in proportion to the thickness of the veins consumed beneath. The shape is due in large measure as now seen, to the action of rain, streams and floods. The so-called "scoriae," at one time attributed to volcanic action, is simply the effect of intense heat of the burning lignite on the surrounding argillaceous and other formations, the color varying with the different conditions of burning and the nature of the matter burnt. It dare not be said that sage alone presides, for at the bases of the hills, and among the rougher formations grow rich grasses native to the surroundings that make ideal feeding grounds for cattle and horses, large herds of which are wintered every year with no other provision than Nature provides. It must not be ascribed to the natives of the state that the dug-out is the characteristic home of the state, for they are fast disappearing and their places taken by residences, which, in comparison, may be styled palatial.

It is difficult indeed to know just what might be said of this state of 49 counties and 6,000 miles of railway, that will be interesting to the reader. It is by no means a plain unpopulated, from which its inhabitants must migrate to learn how things are done. Its 508 corporations alone will convince the easterner that there is activity, and the farm products show that 7,600,000 acres were cropped in wheat; that 1,200,000 acres were cropped in flax; oats was raised from 1,800,000 acres and that the year 1910 also saw 1,000,000 acres covered with barley. Even though trees are scarce, fuel to the amount of 400,000 tons of lignite were mined during the year, not taking into account the coal.

CAN YOU ASK MORE?

Your Money Back for the Asking—You Promise Nothing.

We are so confident that we can furnish relief for indigestion and dyspepsia that we promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to every one who uses it according to directions who is not perfectly satisfied with the results. We exact no promises and put no one under any obligation whatever. Surely nothing could be fairer. We are located right here where you live, and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want every one who is troubled with indigestion or dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and buy a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home, and give them a reasonable trial, according to directions. If they don't please you, tell us and we will quickly return your money. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at our store—The Rexall Store, F. W. Jordan.

Nervous? Thin? Pale?

Are you easily tired, lack your usual vigor and strength? Then your digestion must be poor, your blood must be thin, your nerves must be weak. You need a strong tonic. You need Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only Sarsaparilla entirely free from alcohol. We believe your doctor will endorse these statements. Ask and find out.

If you think constipation is of trifling consequence, just ask your doctor. He will disabuse you of that notion in short order. "Correct it at once!" he will say. Then ask him about Ayer's Pills. A mild liver pill, all vegetable.

ing the tonnage dug by the individual farmers for their own use. By a new process, this coal is ground and compressed into briquets of a fuel value bordering close on to the best anthracite and bituminous varieties, and a cost much less. The supply is practically inexhaustible, the state believing 33,000 square miles to be underlaid, and mining is cheaply and easily done.

To the educational body, a comparison of our thirteen state normal schools with the two of that state, may expose a weakness; but it owns its State University at Grand Forks, its Agricultural College at Fargo, and at least 135 High Schools. Then an enrollment of 156,000 pupils means something, yet it sinks into insignificance when we learn that the city of New York alone has more than three times as many; and that while the state under discussion employs 7,000 teachers, the State of Pennsylvania employs five times that number. The total income secured from the land grant endowment of the public schools in 1910 was $5.92 per capita for each pupil. This income is derived from interest on money accruing from sale of lands, from interest on unpaid remainders of land contracts and from rent paid for hay and pasturage privileges on common school lands yet unsold.

This is another long day of travel; yet not weary. The friendships that sprang up among the travelers in the cars were quite agreeable. A gentleman from Anacortes, Wash., led us into interesting conversation, which terminated in an invitation to visit him at his home on the shores of the Puget Sound, which we did later on. Another family from California, who were in seeing the East, and just returning home with a splendid collection of photographs, was headed by the father, who declared to members of the coach that at last he had found a person who was actually interested in his photo work. He had a splendid collection taken from start of trip east to Boston and many other places, and pointed out to us that the supply of plates we had on hand was far too small to meet the demand, and we found it so. Up to that afternoon we had exposed but twenty-four plates; but the rate of exposure soon doubled. This same family, I alone found nestled by the sea at Pacific Grove, some weeks later, after having been separated from my partner by accident for a number of days. Other enthusiastic tourists aided to make the time pass rapidly. Our day was well high gone. The course along the muddy Yellowstone presented new conditions of water supply, for many streams had been evaporated leaving nothing exposed but the mud cracked beds. Sage brush and bad lands continued parallel with the numerous horse ranches, and then came the beautiful red sunset several hours after we had entered Montana.

Fourth of July events along the line had spurred us on to see the interior of a western town, so our curiosities were satisfied by stopping off at Miles City for the night. It will ever be a memorable Fourth. We were out of place upon those streets that evening. "Easterner" was branded upon us in some conspicuous form that every passer-by would notice. We remained out until the crowds subsided, getting the benefits of the varied sensations in more ways than one, including rates of boarding which soared toward $40 per month, coupled with a room rent of $18 per month, and a corresponding rate for that evening's meal and lodging even at the Y. M. C. A. That day was spent. The next morning was cool and crisp as we left the town at 6 a. m., desiring to make a dash at the Yellowstone National Park; but the events of that followed will be included in the next narration.

Lesson XII.—First Quarter, For March 24, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Mark ii, 13-22. Memory Verses, 16, 17—Golden Text, Mark ii, 17—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The call of Matthew, the first part of today's lesson, is found in Matthew and Luke, as well as in Mark. But the rest of the lesson, including Matthew's entertainment, and the parables of the new and old cloth and the new and old wine are found only in Mark and Luke. In all the acts and words of Jesus we must see God the Father, remembering such words as these: "I can of mine own self do nothing." "The Father who sent Me gave me a commandment, what I should say and what I should speak." "The Father who dwelleth in Me, He doeth the works" (John vi, 30; xii, 49; xiv, 10). His compassion upon the multitude and His readiness to teach them, no matter how weary He was, is our example that we may follow His steps in this as well as in His meekness and patience (1 Pet. ii, 21).

Matthew the publican (Matt. x, 3), or Levi, as he is called by Mark and Luke, may have been turning to Christ in his heart, as probably Zaccheus did, while continuing with doubt in his unpopular calling and longing to be done with it. We might infer this from the readiness with which he left all and rose up and followed Jesus. Many are still being called, but few are ready to follow so promptly. Something of Matthew's gratitude because Jesus called him is seen in the great feast which he made for Jesus in his own house, inviting a great company of publicans and sinners thereto. To see Him eat with publicans and sinners was to the self-righteous Pharisees a great stumbling block, for it was their way to have no fellowship with such nor any love for their souls, rather to pass by on the other side of the street and to say, "God, I thank Thee that I am not as other men." * * * or even as this publican. (Luke xviii, 11). They never said anything more beautiful or true concerning Him than when they said, "This man receiveth sinners and eateth with them" (Luke xv, 2). The words of Jesus to them at this time are both a parable and its explanation: the parable being, "They that are whole have no need of the physician; but they that are sick," and His explanation of it, "I come not to call the righteous, but sinners, to repentance." These words and those concerning the old and new cloth and wine are found also in Matt. ix, 10-17, and seemingly in the same connection as here, but according to the gospel harmony the record in Matthew referred to a later incident. Be that as it may, His words are more than time or place, and we know that He did repeat some of His words—as, for example, the Sermon on the Mount and the Sermon on the Plain (Matt. v to vii and Luke vi, 17-49).

The righteous whom He did not come to call are spoken of in Luke xviii, 9, as "certain ones which trusted in themselves that they were righteous and despised others." We know that in the matter of true righteousness, as God sees it and desires it, "there is none righteous—no, not one." But there are those who, "being ignorant of God's righteousness and going about to establish their own righteousness, do not submit themselves to the righteousness of God" (Rom. iii, 10; x, 3).

To associate the disciples of John and of the Pharisees seems like a very bad combine, but some of John's disciples were no doubt from the Pharisees and, like too many church folks of today, had not dropped their mere formalities. In Zech. vii we read that when the people inquired of the Lord as to whether they should continue certain fasts or not He asked them, "Did ye fast at all to Me, even to Me?" Then He told them what true fasting in His sight was (Zech. vii, 4-10; Isa. lviii, 6-10). Note how He speaks of Himself as the Bridegroom and His disciples as the children of the bride chamber, no doubt looking onward to the marriage of the Lamb of Rev. xix. We might well ask: Where is now the fasting because of the Bridegroom's absence? Where are those who long for His return, who rejoice greatly because of His voice, glad to decrease if only He may increase? (John iii, 29, 30.)

There is much pathwork in the teaching of our day which is directly contrary to the teaching of our Lord concerning the necessity of a new birth. The old garment of our unrighteousness cannot be mended. It must be a new garment throughout, even the garment of Christ's righteousness which He has provided at such infinite cost (II Cor. v, 21; Rom. x, 4). However unpopular the doctrine may be, it is most plainly written that "the carnal mind is enmity against God, for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be" (Rom. vii, 5). Not a shred of Adam and Eve's fig leaf aprons could be tolerated. The coats of skins were all sufficient. We must sing from the heart the words of Isa. lxi, 10. The so-called new thought or new theology will not do, for it is not of God and must therefore be from the adversary, who flatters man by telling him that he is all right and only needs some improvement, which he himself can easily accomplish.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early age, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Longevity of Belgian Women. It is interesting to note that longevity among Belgian women is remarkable and that their length of life is superior to that of male Belgians. While Brussels has 65 old men of eighty-five to ninety years of age and only ten male nonagenarians, she possesses no fewer than 184 women, whose ages are between eighty-five and ninety, 30 between ninety and ninety-five years and six of over ninety-five years of age.

Ford Touring Car $690

75000 Ford cars are to be built for 1912.

The world-wide demand for the Ford, based on merit alone, compels that production.

By building only one model and in such great quantities, a big price reduction has been made possible.

The lightest weight 4-cylinder car in the world; size, power and capacity considered; 60 pounds to every horse-power. If weight is an advantage, why don't the makers of heavy-weight cars advertize the advantage of weight? They may come to it some day, but they're a long way behind right now. # Barnett's Store

THE HOUSE THAT SAVES YOU MONEY

We invite you to visit this store this week, to see the many new things which have just come in.

We particularly call your attention to the new stock of Ladies' Muslin Underwear. These garments are more elaborately trimmed and are prettier than any similar priced ones we have ever handled.

We have also just received a handsome lot of real thin printed linens very suitable for summer gowns. The colorings are beautiful and the cloth is regularly worth 25c a yard, but a very large purchase direct from the mills, enables us to sell them at 13c.

We have received a large lot of Tin and Enamel Ware, Buckets, Brooms, Brushes, Frederick Lime, Wall Paints and Wall Papers—all of which will be sold at house-cleaning prices.

The New Spring Carpets are coming in daily.

MURDERED IN COURT

One of their party who was wounded. Floyd Allen, the prisoner was wounded and was taken in charge by a Deputy.

The following day Sidney Allen was captured after a fierce battle with detectives, in which his wife was killed.

Prior to going to the home of Sidney Allen, the detectives placed under arrest Floyd Allen and his son Victor who guarded his wounded father in a room at a hotel.

During the forenoon on Friday Hillsville was shocked to hear of the death of a witness, Miss Nancy Ayers, whose having been wounded the day before was not known. Clerk Good, the only official of the court not slain, was found to be dangerously wounded.

Virginia's Attorney General appeared upon the scene and reconvened the Court with Judge Walter R. Staples of Roanoke on the bench. Death List Grows

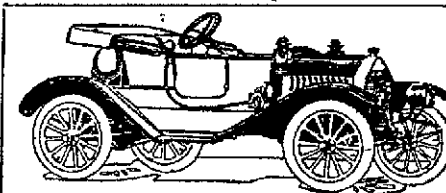

By Saturday Juror Augustus Fowler was added to the roll of the dead, increasing the number to five from the court house fusillade and Mrs. Allen at her home in the mountains.

At a session of Court on Saturday Floyd Allen, Victor Allen and Claude Swanson Allen, his sons; Sidney Allen, Friel Allen, Wesley Edwards and Sidney Edwards, nephews of Floyd Allen, and Byrd Marion, were charged with murder.

John F. Moore was indicted for a felony, the charge being that he assisted the Allens to escape, after which Court adjourned to March 26.

No arrests were made on Sunday and it was generally supposed that the outlaws would effect an escape into North Carolina to friendly "moonshiners" who would secrete them indefinitely.

The others of the clan have not yet been captured.
